SUICIDED.—Robert Smith, son of Ephram Smith, living near Young's Mill, suicided yesterday. He was aged about 40 years.The Interurban Road.

Several of the officials of the new Lexington and Paris traction line, made an inspection trip over the road Tuesday morning. The party consisted of Mr. Younger Alexander, president of the road; W. M. Wamsley, chief engineer; G. C. Heath, general superintendent; W. A. Newman, the civil engineer of the road; J. B. Marshall, master mechanic, and Mr. Pope, the chief electrician. The party went in one of the new cars which was in charge of C. C. Barker, as motorman.

A stop was made at the sub-station and everything was found to be in first class condition. The building was erected for the purpose of transforming the current from high to low tension. The station is about twelve miles from Lexington. No current is made at this station, but merely transformed. Two kinds of current are generated in the power house, direct and alternating. The direct current is used as far as it will go and the alternating current at a tension of 5,000 volts direct to the sub-station where it is reduced to 500 volts tension by a dynamo and five transformers. This current is used on the remainder of the line. It is hoped that by this method the weak current sometime experienced on the Georgetown line will be overcome.

The party arrived in Paris at 1 o'clock. Mr. Alexander expressed himself as being very much pleased with the construction work. He said that everything was completed except the removal of several fences and banks that encroach on the right of way and the completion of the rail bonding, but it will likely be several days before the work is completed. Mr. Alexander said that the exact date of the formal opening of the line could not be given yet, but it will probably be Saturday.

The schedule has not been arranged, but the cars will probably leave the center in Lexington every hour. For a time the cars will only run between Paris and Lexington, but eventually the company expects to run them clear through from Georgetown to Paris. It is claimed that much better time can be made by this arrangement.

It was demonstrated that the trip can be easily made in fifty minutes. This is remarkable time considering the fact of the imperfect bonding of the rails. Several stops were also made, including one of about ten minutes at the sub-station.

Mr. Alexander gave it a rigid inspection and expressed himself as being well pleased with the work. The line is excellently constructed and will doubtless do a heavy business. Work was begun on the road October 15, 1903, so it will be seen that it has taken a little over a year to complete it.

OBEY THE LAW.—Many complaints have been made in regard to live stock being allowed to run at large on the public highways. There are a number of our best citizens who are interesting themselves in the matter of improving the highways by the planting of trees, etc., and their work should be encouraged and protected. There is little encouragement for them, when they devote their time and means to planting trees to have them destroyed by the stock. A chance should be given the trees to grow and the law as regards the stock running at large should be rigidly enforced. While the people are anxious and willing to beautify the public roads, they should be protected.MARKET PRICE PAID.—I will pay the highest market price (in cash) for chickens, eggs, butter, ducks, geese and all kinds of game. 90t-1f H.
